

GRAHAM CAREY

Consultant

Graham Carey has over 14 years experience in ICT, Consulting, New Media, the Oil and Production Industries. Graham has demonstrated strength in management of programs, projects, organisational change, and people. Graham's expertise includes defining and implementing strategy with a focus on process improvement, portfolio management, and new ventures.

Initially starting as an Electrical Engineer with Alcatel, Graham was sent to Paris for 14 months to gain experience within the Operations Group. There, he led an international team in successfully upgrading a large mobile network in Paris.

Returning to Sydney, Graham moved into Project Management as part of the development team for a large scale software project.

He then worked for a number of technology start-ups as a member of executive teams, holding positions such as Chief Technology Officer (CTO), R&D Director, and Director of Strategic Alliances.

With a strong focus on process improvement, Graham developed skills for reducing often over-complicated processes to the core set of tasks required to effectively satisfy a client's goals.

Graham maintained his technical skills throughout these roles and is a co-author of the international patent 'Managing Interactive Broadcasting Services' (WO03107671).

Graham has worked as a consultant for various clients in the Oil and Gas, Construction, Telecommunications, Supply Chain, and Utilities industries. Some of his contributions include:

- Program Managing all projects related to infrastructure on a large Australian mobile network
- Defining the work interfaces between organisations starting up a Public Private Partnership
- Assisting a department within a large multinational organisation to achieve ISO 9001 certification
- Reviewing an organisation's contractor management procedures
- Preparing HSE induction courses
- Realigning a failing project through effective benefits realisation management

Graham holds Degrees in Electrical Engineering (Honours) and Physics from the University of Sydney and a Masters Degree in Business Administration from the Australian Graduate School of Management. Graham is also certified as a Program Manager through the UK's Office of Government Commerce 'Managing Successful Programmes' course.
